Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mailable matter.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, JUNE 28, 1884.

Twenty Sir Knights of Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, escorted Deputy Grand Commander J. M. Saffell to Louisville Tuesday, to participate in the celebration of St. John's Day, and all returned highly pleased with their visit.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. Wednesday afternoon will be a very important one and a full attendance of the members is desired. Several original essays will be read and it is expected that the meeting will be very interesting to all who may attend.

Mr. H. Pope Hawkins, formerly of this county, but now of Greenville, Mississippi, and Miss Lucy H. Robinson, of Willoughby, Ohio, were married at the residence of the bride on Thursday evening. The happy pair arrived in this city last night and are visiting his father's family near this city.

The ladies of the Southern Presbyterian Church will give a raspberry festival in the grounds of the old Hanna Mansion, on Second street, on Wednesday evening next, for the benefit of the church. Cakes, ices and all kinds of refreshments will be furnished at small cost. Everybody invited to attend.

A grand stand with a seating capacity of 500 has been erected on the base ball ground at Lake Park and a number of games will be played there before the season closes. The White Hall nine has been considerably strengthened and can give any amateur club in the State all they will care to do to get away with them.

The remains of the late Sidney Smith, of Louisville, who died last week in North Carolina, were brought to this city and interred in the Cemetery Wednesday. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. John Stedman, of this county, and married Miss Josephine Cox, formerly of this city, who together with one child, survives him.

On Monday afternoon the tug R. J. Grace was coming up the river with two barges of coal belonging to Messrs. S. & J. H. Todd in tow, when one of them containing 3,000 bushels struck a sunken snag, near the mouth of Stoney Creek, and sank in two minutes. It is thought it can be raised, however, and most of the coal saved. It was delivered to Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co.

Col. Bernard Timmons, a gentleman well known in this county, died on the 17th inst., at his home in Lagrange, Texas, after a lingering illness with consumption, in the fifty-fifth year of his age. Col. Timmons was a prominent lawyer of Fayette county, Texas, a native of Kentucky and a graduate of Kentucky Military Institute. His wife was Miss Debbie Gault, of this county, daughter of the late John Gault, of the Peak's Mill precinct. A peculiarly sad feature of his last hours was the illness of his wife, who was and is yet very low with fever and unable to minister to his wants. The remains were interred with Masonic honors.

The case of S. L. Nash, agent of the Masonic Mutual Insurance Company of Indianapolis, charged with doing business in this State in violation of the insurance law passed by the last Legislature, came up in the Circuit Court last week on appeal from Squire McDonald's court, and the judgment of the lower court fining him fifty dollars was affirmed.

Mr. Nash proved himself to be a gentleman while in this city, notwithstanding the fact that he was spoken of by our neighbor in front of the Court House as "a man by the name of S. J. Nash," and only violated the law through ignorance of its existence. All the steps taken by him in the case were under the instructions of his company, who are now convinced they were wrong and will at once comply with the requirements of the law and continue business in the State.

All strangers and persons so desiring are especially invited to visit the stranger's class at the Methodist Sunday-school to-morrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

New Water Works

The water Committee of the Council are considering the question of new water works, and as water is the great necessity of this city, it is to be hoped that the matter will be agitated until we have an abundant supply. We understand that a proposition has been made the committee which is so fair that no one can object to it. The Council will hold a meeting on Monday evening to hear the report of the committee and decide whether they will receive bids or accept the proposition.

The gentlemen who propose to build the works here do not ask the city to do anything but pay rent for the water she will use from the fire plugs, of which they will put in one hundred, to be divided between the North and South sides of the city. They will dig a well in the bottom of the river, cover it with gravel, through which the water will be filtered before it is pumped into a reservoir on one of the hills, and will supply consumers at remarkably reasonable rates. To pay the expense of construction they will issue bonds and sell every one of them in this city, provided they can find purchasers, otherwise they will be put upon the market in other cities. No taxes are to be levied to build it. The city will not be out a cent except for rent of fire hydrants, and she will save more than that amount in the expense of keeping the steam fire engines, which will be superfluous, when the works are completed.

By all means let us have the new works. Everybody wants them, and if the proposition now before the Water Committee is as favorable as we have been informed the most inveterate grumbler can not kick.

Editor Roundabout:
DEAR SIR: Can you or any of your readers inform the mechanics of Frankfort why and by what authority do the C. R. Mason Co., lessees of the Centenary, bring out convicts to execute painting and other mechanical work on the Governor's palace and Warden's residence, and other private residences in this city? Are they not violating the plain letter of the law on the subject? Is this Democracy? Is this the kind of reform that they are constantly preaching to the mechanics and laboring men—bringing convict labor in direct conflict, right here at the Capital of the State, with the mechanics and laborers of Frankfort? It is the first time in thirty years that this wrong has been done, and if I understand the law right the convict labor belongs to Mason & Co., and they have no right or power to thus use them. It is the law and duty of the State Librarian to advertise and receive bids for all work on the State's public buildings, and the keeper, State, or lessee has no right to even put in a bid against the honest laborer of the State. Has any State officer ordered otherwise? We, the laborers and mechanics, want to know if this is to be the policy of the present State administration to bring or order convicts to execute mechanic's work on the State buildings here at Frankfort. If so they can take them to all the charitable institutions of the State, at Lexington, Danville, Louisville, Anchorage, and Hopkinsville. Are the honest mechanics of all these cities ready and willing to see them thus employed? It is bad enough for us to have to compete with them inside the walls—and I insist that the State nor the present lessees or Warden can by law, work them outside the walls, except on public works, and for the purpose of obtaining raw material, such as wood, lumber and stone, to be used inside, and we earnestly, but respectfully protest against this great and flagrant wrong.
